This Is Princeton

MERRY . . .

Christmas in Princeton. The ghost of Christmas 1970 will haunt Princeton's schools and the town for a long year to come.

Because traditional observances have been ruled out for 1970, Princeton found itself unexpectedly on TV news programs and in big-city newspapers and, not so unexpectedly, found the issue already part of the politicking for school board elections.

An open public "executive" meeting of the school board was scheduled for this Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Room 8 of John Witherspoon School for the purpose of discussing Christmas in the schools. It was called at the suggestion of William Marvel, vice-president of the board.

Dr. Marvel said he thought the question should be "reviewed again" and added that it was important to "find out what's been going on." Dr. Marvel, John Marks, president of the board, and Superintendent Philip E. McPherson said at press time that they did not know what their remarks at the meeting would be.

It was thought, however, that board members opposed to the administration would take the opportunity to criticize Dr. McPherson for his actions in dampening down Christmas observances.

Because many of the parents who first approached the board and administration over a year ago are Jewish, opposition to the Christmas situation in Princeton has now taken on anti-Semitic overtones in some quarters. However, it is not only Jewish families who have expressed concern about Christmas in the schools. Many Catholic parents, for example, have been disturbed about the secularization of the holiday and an over emphasis, they say, on Santa Claus.

In the noisy turmoil — and as more than one Princeton resident has observed, it is turmoil — Princeton's schools could certainly have done with out a gentle, clear and positive note will be sounded this Wednesday at Riverside School.

There in Mrs. Norma Gumbiner's second grade classroom, the children will have a Winter Party. It happens to be a rather international group and before the morning is over and school has closed for Christmas vacation, Mrs. Gumbiner's boys and girls will know a good bit more about other lands and others ways and other faiths.

Three mothers from Sweden — Mrs. Karl Hernquist, Mrs. Charles Granade and Mrs. Michael Maryk — will describe St. Lucia's day, which falls on the day of the winter solstice according to the old calendar. That's December 13.

This is the shortest day in the year, and in the long, long nights of Sweden it has especially poignant significance. In the dawn of that day, the youngest daughter of the house walks through the rooms wearing a crown of lighted candles and serving breakfast in bed to the rest of the family. Mrs. Maryk's three year old daughter has said she will be Lucia to show the second graders what it's like.

In the Swedish celebration, the heart has special symbolism. It stands for hospitality. Basketweave paper heart baskets full of sweets are always hung on Swedish Christmas trees, and Mrs. Hernquist will take many baskets full of rich and buttery Swedish cookies for the children to munch.

Lighted candles are important in another faith, too. Mrs. Lila Brunner and Mrs. Lennie Heymann will tell the children about the Jewish holiday of Chanukah which begins the Tuesday evening.

Starting with the "Shamesh" the tallest candle in the Menorah — a candelabra — the members of a Jewish family light one candle each evening for eight evenings until on the eighth night all the candles are burning.

LIGHTS FROM MANY FAITHS: Candles for the Swedish St. Lucia's day and the Jewish Chanukah will be lit for second-graders in a Riverside School class when they have a "Winter Party." Mrs. Lila Brunner (right) will explain Chanukah and Mrs. Karl Hernquist (center) will tell about Lucia's crown of light. Mrs. John Hite (left) is in charge.

The word Chanukah means "dedication" and it comes from the legend of the Maccabees who revolted against their oppressors and were driven from the temple. When the temple was re-dedicated, there was oil enough for only one night of lamps yet the oil burned for eight nights.

"The dedication of the temple, you see, meant that the Jews once again had religious freedom," Mrs. Brunner will tell the children.

France will be represented by Miss Anna Maria Chave, "au pair" girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Benacer raf. French Christmas is much like Christmas here she shrugs, and the carols are all the same.

But the big Christmas dinner is on Christmas Eve, and then the family goes to church. While they are there, Father Christmas comes and leaves his presents.

In the south of France, there are 12 symbolic desserts, perhaps dates, nuts and a special pastry like a pretzel. It is an old custom, in the south of France, to have members of the congregation in a pageant of the nativity at midnight mass.

At the Winter Party, Frances Moon will play his guitar and the children will sing.

Within Mrs. Gumbiner's class are also Italian boys and girls, a black child who belongs to a Baptist Church, a young Chinese who has an exciting February New Year's celebration to anticipate, and a child whose German mother will describe Christmas in her country.

The traditional American celebration, without its traditional materialism, will be described by Mrs. Stephen Slovall, formerly a teacher in the Princeton schools.

The Winter Party has been planned by Mrs. Hernquist and Mrs. John Hite, and Mrs. Hite hopes children and parents will be inspired by the party to explore other religions and find out what they are all about.

HOW MANY SEATS?

Question in Air. Nobody knew, at TOWN TOPICS' early Christmas press time, whether a Superior Court order of last Friday to reapportion the East Windsor Regional School board right now, would also apply to Princeton.

Meanwhile, Jeremiah Ford, 33 Mercer Street, announced his candidacy for one of the Borough's two school board seats. Mrs. Hannah Fox has already said she will run, so there is no Borough contest so far.

With the filing deadline only hours away — at 4 p.m. Christ

How to Buy a Perfume

by Christian Dior

Be sure you test the perfume by spraying it. (Dabbing concentrates it too much . . . not at all like the true fragrance.)

If you like the spray effect, open your purse carefully and let a little money surface.

Not too much.

A little money for a smallish bottle. (Perfume, like wine, changes when opened.) So buy small and use regularly — as you do lipstick. It's essential to good grooming.

One more salient fact — the kind of perfume.

It should be a lifting name easy to remember. A mystical name hard to forget.

Take our word for it . . . Dior.

For your sake . . . and for his.

Fund Grows — Still Time To Help!

(From the 1970 Town Topics Christmas Appeal)

"Joan, age 9, the only girl in a family of 5 boys, is too old for her years. With a recently invalided mother, who has retreated from any contact with reality, and a father holding two full-time jobs so that his family will survive, Joan came to shoulder more than she could possibly carry. She started to crack under the strain and the lack of any female identification in the home. The father, dismayed by her outbursts of anger and frustration, sought counseling for himself and Joan. Together, with their boys, they are moving steadily toward new goals."

Joan, and others like her, benefit all year long from gifts made to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund. Contributions to date total $3,336.26.

Checks should be made payable to The Town Topics Christmas Fund, mailed to P.O. Box 664, Princeton, N.J. 08540, or brought to 4 Mercer Street It is never too late to help.

nas Eve" a contest for the Township's single seat will be held between incumbent William Marvel now formally endorsed by CARES, the anti-administration group, and T. C. Allen.

Last Friday, Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield ruled that Edward A. Callahan, Mercer County superintendent of schools, must reapportion the East Windsor district according to preliminary census figures by the December 24 deadline.

Thomas Cook, counsel to Princeton's school board, thinks Princeton's case isn't at all that different from East Windsor's and that probably Mr Callahan will be directed to reapportion both Princeton and Hopewell Regional.

Mr. Callahan has asked for a ruling from the New Jersey Attorney General's office and so has Mr. Cook. If Mr Callahan doesn't act by this Thursday at 4, the present proportion of Borough Township board members will prevail in 1971. . .

If he does reapportion Princeton by the deadline, only one seat will then be available in the borough instead of two, and Mr. Ford and Mrs. Fox will be competing for it. The Township would gain a second seat and unless somebody else files before 4 p.m., there would be no contest between Dr. Marvel and Mr. Allen.

Announcing his candidacy, Mr Ford emphasized that he's not the candidate of either CARES, the anti administration group; nor of the Committee for Princeton Schools, the pro administration group.

"I see a definite need for a candidate not committed to either," he declared.

Mr. Ford said he was not concerned with past disputes because they only emphasized disruptive polarization. He said he looked to the future and a chance to establish a "proper and effective relationship" between the board, administration, faculty and parents "to the benefit of the students."

Individuals in both the pro and anti administration groups have given him helpful comments, he said, adding that he was listening to all sides and had found constructive elements in both the formally organized groups.

Dr. Marvel, commenting on his endorsement by CARES, said CARES came to him, and not the other way around

"I accept their endorsement," he said, "but I won't go along with labels attached to people." He pointed out that he had supported many "innovative" programs launched in Princeton's schools.

"I have read the CARES' statement, and accepting the endorsement doesn't mean I agree word by word, but the approach is a responsible one," he said.

Dr. Marvel said he hadn't seen any statement from the Committee for Princeton Schools, but he added, "I'd be happy to have an overture from them. I'd love to reach my arms out to both these groups."

He said he suspected that "the edges of the two groups" are probably close in "what their real concerns are."

TO SUCCEED ANDREWS

John Strange on Council. Democrat John Strange, 16 Bank Street, will be appointed to Borough Council by Republican Mayor Robert W. Cawley to fill the seat that will be vacated after January 1 by Democratic Councilman James Andrews. Mr. Andrews is moving to Atlanta.

Dr. Strange's appointment will secure the 5-1 majority the Democrats achieved in November with the election to Council of Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo. The other Democrats are Robert Hendry and Alice Male. The lone Republican will be Charles Cornforth.

Dr. Strange is associate professor of political science at Livingston College, Rutgers University. His specialty is state and local government.

The new Councilman is 32 years old. Mr. Moore and Mr. Lombardo are each 28, so the 1971 Council will be one of the newest and youngest on record.

The choice was made after some 20 25 names were considered at meetings of the Princeton Democratic Association and the Princeton Community Democratic Association.

According to Mr. Andrews, two prominent Princeton Democrats were asked to accept the Councilman post and declined. They are Nicholas J. Bartolino and Mrs. Wilson Coan. Mr. Bartolino is a former mayoralty candidate and Mrs. Coan served as Borough tax collector.

"It was narrowed down to three or four serious candidates, and John Strange came through strongly," Mr. Andrews said. "Many problems that will face the Borough shortly involve local, county and state coordination and Dr. Strange will know immediately which agency can get the job done."

Mr. Andrews also pointed to Dr. Strange's "strong record" of local political work. As a graduate student, he was committeeman in Princeton Township's District Three and during the '60's, after moving to the Borough, he worked in election campaigns.

"Also, Dr. Strange was eager to accept the job, and he told us he'd be willing to think about running for Council on his own in '71," Mr. Andrews said.

Mayor Cawley's appointment is for one year — the remaining length of time Mr. Andrews' three-year term has to run.

Mayor Cawley said he conferred with Council's Democrats on the selection of an Andrews' successor. For a time, the name of Arthur Morgan, a Republican, was discussed as a choice and both Mr. Andrews and Councilman Male indicated they would be happy with Mr. Morgan. However, his heavy load of work on the Regional Planning Board precluded the Council assignment, Mr. Andrews said.

Dr. Strange is said to have the backing of both Edward Sweeney of the Princeton Democratic Association, and Edward Schneier, president of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization.

The Stranges lived in Princeton from 1961 to 1966 and Dr. Strange received his doctorate from Princeton University.

He held research and administrative positions with the North Carolina Fund, a Ford Foundation-sponsored anti-poverty effort in North Carolina; with IBM and with the National Academy of Public Administration.

With his wife and three children, he moved back to Princeton this August to begin his work at Rutgers. Dr. Strange's wife Diana, is manager of Clayton's Yarn Shop.

IT'S CHRISTMAS IN THE HOSPITAL, TOO: A gumdrop-trimmed gingerbread house provides seasonal therapy for David Ruiz, 4, (center). He accepts the gift from Matthew Hannon and Sarah Bayard, of the kindergarten class at Stuart Country Day School. For three Christmases, Stuart students have visited hospitalized youngsters. With the children are Toni Riggs, who is a student nurse, and Lisa Fischbeck (back to camera), a 10th grader wearing the Candy Striper uniform that identifies her as a junior volunteer at New Jersey State Hospital.

TAKE A WALK . . .

But not on Snowden. A stubborn little piece of Snowden Lane sidewalk 700 feet long, has caused Township Committee almost as much vexation as The Great Road realignment, and both occupied Committee Monday night.

It was Mayor John D. Wallace's last night in the chair, except for the usual 5 p.m. year-end session next Monday. He will remain on Committee, but the new mayor is expected to be Committeeman James A. Floyd. It was also the last night for William L. Wilson who has been a Committeeman for eight years.

This was the third hearing for two ordinances on the Snowden Lane walk segment between Braeburn and Leabrook. Originally, Committee planned to charge property-owners the cost of acquiring some land for right-of-way, but protesting owners had their way, and that ordinance was wiped out after a couple of hearings, and a new one introduced. It's this ordinance Committee began to act on the ordinance and Mayor Wallace asked for the vote.

When Mr. Sares heard this, he stomped out of the room and down the stairs, before the vote was taken. It turned out to be 3-2, with Mr. Floyd and Committeeman William L. Wilson voting "No."

Because it's an ordinance appropriating money, it must have a two-thirds majority to pass, and three "yes" votes just aren't enough. So the ordinance failed, and Mr. Sares was not present to witness his unexpected triumph. (Somebody went after him, and he came back later.)

The Great Road re-alignment assessments didn't end so pleasantly for the objectors. Committee passed the assessments 4-0. Dean Chace abstaining because he'd been absent for the original hearings in July.

Elmer Timby, assessed approximately $18,000, hinted that he might appeal Committee's action to the courts.

He protested the Township took land from him for the re-alignment without paymen., but paid the Tenacre Foundation $3,000 for land.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini explained that because the Timby property was involved in a subdivision, the Township could require donation of land as a condition of subdivison. The Township has since been defeated by the courts on this policy, and hopes the State Supreme Court will act in its favor.)

Mr. Timby also charged the Township should have used state money for the re-alignment, but Mr. Nini said the state didn't provide enough.

When Mr. Timby referred to the dedication of land as a subdivision condition as "blackmail," Mr. Floyd retorted, "That is a dastardly remark" and asked attorney Gordon Griffin to comment.

Mr. Griffin suggested that Mr. Timby probably hadn't really meant blackmail in any legal sense, and he said it wasn't true that the Township has made an "unlawful exaction" in getting the land from Mr. Timby.

Here He Comes!

Six inches of snow'
Sounds just about right.
The reindeer and I
Will be traveling tonight!

Fortunately for all of us, Santa Claus found out years ago how to reach these parts even if there isn't a white Christmas. And the Man said sadly early this week that sure enough, snow will not fall either Thursday or Friday.

As a matter of fact, the Christmas Day forecast is fair and seasonably cold. Once again, most of the snow and sleet has hit areas not more than 40 to 50 miles north of us. Could be that the six inches of snow which December usually produces will be added to the amount we get in the next two months of winter.

Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart was also defeated by Committee's action. Sister M. C. Wheeler said the school financial situation "is so precarious that our survival is threatened."

The school has a bank loan of $1.5 million which must be renegotiated in two years, and a loan of $1.2 million from the Order of the Sacred Heart.

Stuart is now willing to pay the $3,800 assessment on one lot, which it wasn't willing to pay before. But the school doesn't see how it can pay $16,000 on the largest lot.

Mayor Wallace pointed out that Committee has agreed not to assess Stuart that $16,000 until the lot is developed for residential purposes. By that time, he said, the lot will be worth even more than it is now.

But Sister Wheeler protested that the school didn't want to tie up its land, which is the institution's chief financial asset. She also reminded Committee that the school paid $75,000 for the sewer line to Mountain Avenue and gave the Township about $15,000 worth of land for the future extension of Bayard Lane. In addition, she said, Stuart gave two and one-half acres of land, valued today at $40,000, to the Township for the re-aligned Great Road.

Mercer County's Traffic Safety Committee has discovered that Route 206, from the Borough line north, is hazardous: 60 accidents in 1969. They also think the Ewing-206 intersection has some dangerous potential.

The county has now observed what Princeton has seen for years: that pavement at the sides of Route 206 is poor and unsafe, that the crown should be reduced and the highway improved.

At Ewing, says the county, Route 206 should be widened on the west and a center, left-turn lane drawn for southbound cars turning in to Ewing Valley and Route 206 is bad, too. The county thinks the state might act if county and Township both presented the case.

First Trenton National Bank with 3.35% interest, was low and winning bidder on $200,000 worth of Great Road sewer bonds. Mayor Wallace, a vice-president of the bank, abstained in the vote.

The Mt. Lucas Road complex known as North Square will be before Committee January 18 on appeal from Regional Planning Board rejection.

week, whether to register its opposition to a bill which, if enacted into state law, could deprive the Borough of $81,379 in property taxes.

The bill would make fraternal organizations tax exempt and if Princeton University's eating clubs are defined as fraternal organizations, they wouldn't have to pay taxes to the Borough. The total 1970 tax bill of all the clubs is $81,379.

Robert F. Mooney, Borough Administrator, has already written to all Assemblymen and State Senators to register Borough disapproval, and mayor and Council think this may be sufficient.

"We had 20% more tax exempt property than taxable property in 1963, and that percentage is probably still the same," Mr. Mooney said. "We may be the only municipality in the state that has to live with a situation like this."

At the League of Municipalities Convention last month, Mr. Mooney said, "They were talking about help for towns that have lots of tax-exempt properties, and now this . . . !"

WHO'S ON BOARD?

Appointments Can be Crucial. With a new mayor and a Democratic majority on Committee, the Township may see new faces and new philosophies on various boards, and some partisan appointments made in the past, may well be casualties.

On the Board of Health, recently in the spotlight over its apparent opposition to merger with the Borough board, Dr. William Kleinberg's term expires. The post of Dr. Richard Barach, who resigned, has never been filled so the new mayor will have two chances at the board.

The entire Township Planning Board, now engaged in working on crucial revisions to the zoning ordinance, will be up for change or re-appointment. The board is only in existence until it can complete the zoning revisions and the entire board is appointed year by year.

Its members are Hans K. Sander, Gerald Breese, William Sutphin, Joseph R. Nini, John D. Wallace, James A. Floyd, T. B. Fisher, Walter Foster and Robert Wright. Many are Republicans. All but the last two are on the Princeton Regional Planning Board as well.

On that board, Mayor John D. Wallace has been serving in his capacity as mayor, and Mr. Floyd as Township Committeeman. If Mr. Floyd becomes mayor, as expected, presumably the two would simply change places on the board.

Three slots will be vacant on the Township Zoning Board. Everett Garretson and William Geddes. The position vacated by Carl Sonnenschein has not been filled.

T. B. Fisher's position on the regional planning board will also expire.

HITS PARKED CAR

Charged with Careless Driving. A 22-year old Belle Mead man was charged with careless driving Saturday after he struck a parked car on Witherspoon Street near the entrance to Conte's Bar.

Gregory DeWitt of Willow Road told Pfc. Al Funk that he did not remember the accident at the scene or at Princeton Hospital, where he was taken by Pfc. Michael Koplin-er. He was treated for lacerations of the chin and hand.

The mishap took place at 11:07 p.m. The owner of the parked car, Chandra M. Varma of Murray Hill, told police that he had parked his car on Witherspoon about 10:30 that evening. Police described Mr DeWitt's car as a total loss.

Sally Ann Marucci, 38, Province Lane Road, refused medical aid for a slight contusion and abrasion she received in an accident Thursday morning at the intersection of Broadmead and Western Way.

She told police that she was traveling about 20 miles per hour on Broadmead near Western Way when she realized that she had not stopped for the stop sign. When she saw that she was about to collide with an approaching car, she increased her speed to try to get out of the way in time. However, her small foreign car was caught by its rear fender, causing it to spin around and flip over.

The second driver was Beryl A. Baldwin, 44, of 81 Washington Road, Rocky Hill. Pfc. David Potts made no charges.

Car Skids 150 Feet. The driver of a sports-type car was charged with passing at an intersection after he triggered a two-car collision last week at Harrison Street and Hartley Avenue. Also charged with being an unlicensed driver by Sgt. Robert Heacock of the Township police was William J. Schemmer, 17, of Mercer Cannon Road.

According to witnesses, the Schemmer car passed a station wagon and struck a car ahead of it turning left from Harrison onto Hartley. The latter was driven by Elmer J. Naples, 31, of Trenton. He received a severe contusion of the head.

After striking the Naples car, the Schemmer car jumped the curb on Harrison Street, traveled 51 feet on the grass and then crossed back over Harrison, striking the opposite curb. It traveled a total of 150 feet after impact, police said. Both cars had to be towed away.

A NEW PRESS for the Graphics Atelier at the Princeton Art Association is in the offering due as a result of the approximately $500 raised by sale of members' work at Gallery 100 this month. Above, Mrs. Adrienne Burk (center) of the PAA receives the funds from Mrs. Fleurette Faus and Hal Burnett.

McCarter's '72-73 Plans Already in the Wings

It may be intermission time for McCarter repertory in 1971 72, but plans are even now under discussion for that next 1972 73 season, and preliminary recommendations may be made in the next two months.

The word comes from Daniel Seltzer who joined the staff of Princeton University this summer as chairman of the faculty committee on McCarter and Professor of English. He was associate director of the Loeb Drama Center at Harvard, a post he had spent 11 of his 15 Harvard years with the Center.

During the repertory intermission year of 1971 72 McCarter will by no means be "dark." Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter who will be on sabbatical during 71 72 points out that familiar offerings like one night stands of off Broadway companies, films and the ethnic dance groups will not only continue but will probably be increased in number because without repertory, there will be more nights in the week

McCARTER FACULTY CHAIRMAN: Daniel Selzer has come to Princeton University from his post as associate director of Harvard's Loeb Drama Center. He is the new chairman of the University's Faculty Committee on McCarter Theatre.

School children will still come to the theatre because McCarter hopes to bank three or four productions that will appeal to high school teachers and their students.

Around the Princeton community theatre - goers have been wondering whether repertory will indeed start up again in 1972, or whether the one year sabbatical is just a way to ease it out permanently.

Mr. Lithgow himself says with a smile, "Even a temporary interruption of repertory could be fatal — this is the apprehension of theatre people."

The purpose of the one year suspension is to evaluate the original concept of McCarter repertory as a "Living Library of Theatre" for University Students.

Mr. Lithgow thinks it would have been more productive to re examine a working program, "like throwing a strobe light on a working engine to see what's wrong with it."

Professor Selzer dosen't share Mr. Lithgow's apprehensions: "I am deeply committed to the idea of a professional component in McCarter and so are the other members of the faculty committee."

"And we have every assurance of University administrative interest in continuing. I feel confident enough that we WILL start again, to be willing to take the risk of the one year suspension."

Why a break at this particular time?

"The idea of a break has been under deliberation for three or four years," Mr. Lithgow explains, "and within recent years, the University's educational philosophy has shifted: co-education, a deeper responsibility to the Princeton community, more of a commitment socially. The natural question is, how can McCarter be more effective in this changed University?"

In a report on McCarter, prepared before he came to Princeton, Professor Selzer recommended theater activities "more germane" to undergraduate experience.

Also, Mr. Lithgow has wanted a sabbatical for some time. The opportunity came for him to work with composer Frank Lewin on a gigantic pageant planned for Washington Crossing State Park during the 1976 Bicentennial celebrations. The timing of this offer with the arrival of a new chairman of the McCarter faculty committee, made it seem like a good idea to begin evaluation right now. As Professor Selzer observes it would have been almost impossible to hire a good Acting Director for only one year.

Finances weren't a factor. "The financial aspects of repertory at McCarter have never been given as a reason," Mr. Lithgow emphasizes, "the deficit situation at McCarter is serious, from an administrative point of view, but the deficits are not 'over-rides' on costs, but 'under-rides' on income: rising costs of production and lower income."

And Professor Selzer agrees the decision wasn't based on it was not a financial decision."

It's too early to say what even the preliminary recommendations will be. Both Mr. Lithgow and Professor Selzer would like to use McCarter's professionals — actors, directors — in the University, perhaps in seminars or, as Mr Lithgow puts it, "with actors doubling as teachers."

Professor Selzer points to the recent direction of Theatre in time's "Threepenny Opera" by McCarter's actor - director Brendan Burke as an "important development."

In evaluating, the Faculty Committee will turn for advice to the commercial theatre, to other campuses and to Mr Lithgow.

Committee members are David F. Bradford (economics); Robert Fagles (comparative literature); J. A. Farrington (administration); Edmund Keeley (creative arts); J. Merrill Knapp (music); Robert Tickets for Sale. McCarter likes the idea of tickets in somebody's Christmas stocking.

The offering is a book of eight coupons good for any performance in the Spring Drama Series that starts in February. (Call 921-8700 for information.) Coupons are exchangeable for the best available seats for any performance Thursday, Friday or Saturday evening or Sunday afternoon. Coupons may be used one or two at a time, or all at once if your're having a party.

More than 30 performances of seven productions are on the spring repertory calendar.

The year begins with two hold overs from the fall season: Sunday matinees of Arthur Miller's "All My Sons," and Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin in the Sun" and the "Macbeth" originally designed for student audiences.

February brings the world premiere of Theodore H. White's first play "Caesar at the Rubicon," plus two evenings of "Macbeth."

Next comes Jules Feiffer's "Little Murders," in which life, if that's the word, in New York City is examined. Oscar Wilde follows, with "The Importance of Being Earnest" and the spring season ends in April with Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming."

"IF . . ." STAR HERE

As Hamlet, Hugh Thomas, the 21 year-old student at Cambridge University who was featured in the film "If . . ." will play Hamlet when the Oxford - Cambridge Shakespeare Company comes to McCarter with Jonathan Miller's production of the play.

Thomas portrayed one of the sadistic whips in "If . . ." with other members of the Oxford Cambridge group, he is touring American college campuses with the dual purpose of exercising his dramatic talent and meeting American university students.

"Hamlet," in this production is directed by Dr. Miller.

who was one of the four writer performers in "Beyond the Fringe." All the fights — swordplay — in this "Hamlet" are supervised by William Hubbs, who is Fight Director for Sir Laurence Olivier's National Theatre, and who directed the swordplay in Zeffirelli's film "Romeo and Juliet."

PLAYHOUSE and TRENT

Scrooge (See ad for dates) is a musical version of Charles Dickens' famous story, "A Christmas Carol." Albert Finney plays Scrooge, and he delivers an early solo called "I Hate People" with much gusto.

Alec Guinness fairly flits through the part of Marley's Ghose in white chalk make-up and burdened with awesome chains. Edity Evans, as an elegantly attired eccentric, is the Ghost of Christmas Past. The Ghost of Christmas Present is a giant, heavily bearded, Kenneth More.

Bob Cratchit, the clerk, is played by David Collins and Richard Beaumont appears as Tiny Tim. The musical has a minimum of dancing and a bland score. The 19th Century sets and costumes, photographed in color, have a fairy-tale quality. (Running time 111 minutes.)

PRINCE

There's a Girl in My Soup (opens Christmas Day) stars Peter Sellers and Goldie Hawn in a sophisticated tale about the capering of a middle-aged London gourmet.

The film opens with his successful seduction of a former girl friend who has just been married. But he is outwitted by Miss Hawn, a girl about town whom he temporarily beds and boards. The best performance is given by Tony Britton in the role of Seller's very much married publisher and friend.

Ray Boulting, author of the play of the same name, directed the film.

GARDEN

Doctor Zhivago (Christmas Day thru. Tues.) returns to give us another look at one of the most beautiful films of 1966.

Director David Lean has made a fairly true translation of Boris Pasternack's Nobel prize - winning novel. The film follows a gentle, non-conformist Russian (Zhivago) from his childhood through manhood and even to his death. He is brilliantly portrayed by Omar Sharif, with Geraldine Chaplain in the role of Tonya, his selfless wife. Julie Christie is Lara, the great love of Zhivago's life.

The absorbing drama ranges from intimate love affairs to the spectacle of a clash in the streets between Czarist troops and revolutionaries and a brutal battle in the fields between Red and White Russians.

David Lean's direction creates mood, so seldom captured on film. The photography is superb.

Little Fauss and Big Halsy (opens Wed., Dec. 30) is a motorcycle racing movie with a difference.

Big Halsy (Robert Redford) is a motorcycle racer of some skill and renown. Little Fauss (Michael J. Pollard) is only his tuner, who dreams of becoming a racing star. Big is a killer with the ladies; Little wants to be but isn't.

For every plot cliche, such as the disagreement between the two over a girl who joins them on their travels, there is an effective twist. The action sequences have been vigorously staged, using cameras in helicopters and strapped to motorcycles in the thick of the race.

The country - rock score is sung by Johnny Cash and others, punctuating the dramatic sections of the film. And the girl, played by newcomer Lauren Hutton, is first seen belatedly and spectacularly, wholly nude.

PLANNING BEGINS

For Wellesley Antique Show

Although still three months off, the planning for the 12th annual Wellesley Antique Show has begun. Proceeds from the show, which last year amounted to more than $7,000, benefit the college and the May Margaret Fine Scholarship Fund, which each year send a student from this area to Wellesley.

Heading the show for the second year in a row is Mrs. Gordon R. Munger, whose co-chairman is Mrs. H. James Herring. The theme for this year's show, to be held at the Princeton Day School on March 18, 19, and 20 will be Our American Heritage.

A red, white and blue garden, designed and executed by landscape designer S. Lawrence Bencze of Kate's Nursery, will be the display around which all the exhibits of the dealers will be arranged.

Speakers on both Thursday and Friday will concentrate on American antique and folk themes. On each show day, lunch will be served at the Day School.

Mrs. Herring and Mrs. Munger have announced the following committee chairmen for the Antique Show: Mrs. Bryce Maxwell and Mrs. William Stuart, exhibitors; Mrs. Hallet Johnson Jr., patrons; Mrs. William M. LaRiche Jr., printing; Mrs. Ernest H. Winter Jr., publicity; Mrs. James H. Bennett and Mrs. J. Richard Spicer, program; Mrs. Richard H. Sullivan, hostesses; Mrs. Harry Heher Jr. and Mrs. Michael F. Spicer, food; Mrs. Richard Pearson and Mrs. A. W. Tabell, coordinating, and Mrs. Willis C. Armstrong, speakers; and Mrs. Richard S. Armstrong, printed distribution.

SUMMER PROGRAM SET

For Community Service Interns. For the fifth consecutive year, the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs will conduct its summer intern program for college and graduate students. Applications are now being accepted.

The 11 week program employs about 150 students on a full-time basis from June 14 to August 27 in a variety of public service positions through out the State. Those chosen will work in municipal, county, and state offices, antipoverty and legal service agencies, Model Cities programs and some public-oriented private agencies. Seminars on public affairs topics are scheduled during the course of the program.

Students regularly enrolled as undergraduate or graduate students at accredited colleges are eligible to apply. Preference will be given to New Jersey residents and students attending New Jersey colleges.

In general, applicants must demonstrate a balance of academic achievement and evidence of interest or involvement in community or public affairs. There are no age, sex, or marital restrictions, but immediate relatives or Department employees are not eligible.

Intern salaries range from $2 an hour for college freshmen (those who will have completed one year of study) to $3.25 an hour for graduate students. The salaries are based on the standard Civil Service pay scale for student assistants.

Last summer, 203 students were selected for internships from more than 1,300 applicants.

The general application deadline is April 1, but last students must apply by February 15. Students are urged to submit applications as soon as possible.

Applications may be obtained by writing to: Interns in Community Service, New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, P.O. Box 2768, Trenton, New Jersey, 08625. Copies are also available at many college placement offices.

Holiday Mail Service Cut

The Princeton Post Office will curtail window service and mail deliveries over the next ten days, because of Christmas and New Year's holidays.

No home mail deliveries except special deliveries will be made the day after Christmas, Saturday. In addition to Christmas Day and New Year's Day, window service will also be suspended for those three days, and cut to a half day (8 a.m. to noon) this Thursday and next.

There will be no street box collection on Christmas and New Year's Days.

COIN-OP DRY CLEANING?

— — Quotes from Clothing Manufacturers

J. P. STEVENS & CO. INC.: "No pressing required when these slacks are cleaned in a coin-operated dry cleaning machine."

HAGGAR COMPANY: "Dry clean in a coin-operated machine — no pressing needed."

BRENT: "These tailored slacks are specially treated to keep their all-over, permanently pressed shape. Front and back knife-sharp creases will last the life of the garment. Dry clean only . . . use coin operated machine."

HEATHERDOWNE: "No pressing required when these slacks are cleaned in a coin-operated dry cleaning machine. Best results are obtained when garment is removed from machine as soon as cleaned, then smoothed and placed on hanger."

BOTANY BRANDS, INC.: "This slack can be cleaned in any coin operated dry cleaning machine."

We've been saying this all along! Coin-operated dry cleaning is an efficient, economical method, and we're pleased the garment manufacturers are helping us spread the good word.

Trousers, dresses, suits, blankets, sweaters, jackets emerge from our machines completely revitalized. Colors are fresh and the garments are free of wrinkles and chemical odor.

TREE BANK ESTABLISHED

By Shade Tree Commission. The Borough Shade Tree Commission has established a "tree bank" to receive funds from donors wishing to have a tree planted in memory of another person.

The trees will carry a durable memorial plaque. Several trees around the Borough have already been privately donated. Five sugar maples on Library Place have been given in memory of two persons, one for Katherine S. Miles and the other four for Alice Y. Landsbury. A cucumber magnolia on the hospital grounds was given in memory of Sally D. Augustine by the Contemporary Garden Club.

Checks should be made out to the Borough and sent to the Borough Clerk. Donations are tax deductible. Any member of the Shade Tree Commission is available for preliminary consultation. They are Alan Carrick, Mrs. Charles R. Frank Jr., Richard V. Landsbury, Arnold Ryden, Mrs. Emily C. Stuart and Harleigh Kemmerer, chairman.

All new trees planted by the Borough in the future will have small name tags attached. The commission feels that this means of identification will enhance public interest in its planting program.

DISPLAY CASE EMPTIED

Of Gifts at High School. An enterprising thief assured himself of a bountiful Christmas last week by emptying a display case full of gifts in the student exchange room at Princeton High School.

Taken were a television set, a Polaroid camera, two AM-FM radios, an 8-track stereo, a portable typewriter and a cassette recorder with a total value of about $500. The articles on display were priced to be awarded to winners of a candy selling contest in the school.

According to Detective Robert M. Arena, the intruder first removed the moulding from a rear and then a 3-by-4-foot display window. The theft was reported at 7:30 Friday morning by school principal Miss Florence Burke.

Police believe the intruder entered the school by breaking a small pane of glass to unlock a first floor window. The student exchange is located on the second floor.

Pfc. David Alston made the initial investigation.

TWO HOMES ENTERED

Friday in Township. Two homes were entered late Friday afternoon in the Township. Between 3:40 and 5:40, the rear door of the home of Henry S. Bienen, 436 Prospect Avenue, was pried open but police reported that nothing was taken. Between 5 and 6:18, there was a forced entry at the home of Ketill Nerheim, 61 Bertrand Drive. Taken, police said, were $20 in cash and a check for $42.50.

MEMORIAL CUCUMBER MAGNOLIA LABLED: Mail Jones Jr. and Beth Frank watch Arnold Ryden, secretary of the Borough Shade Tree Commission, attach a memorial plaque on a cucumber magnolia near the hospital. The tree was donated in memory of Sally D. Augustine by the Contemporary Garden Club.

Snow Tires Stolen. Fifteen snow tires valued at $417 were stolen between 2 and 6 p.m. Wednesday from the Esposito Brothers Service Station on the corner of Witherspoon Street and Harris Road.

According to the police, the tires were removed from a rack on the north side of the garage, taken to the rear and carted away while owner Vincent Esposito and his brother were working inside. Pfc. William Potts investigated.

Landon Peters, 72 Knoll Drive, reported two used snow tires taken from the rear of his unlocked car early last week. He valued them at between $20 and $25 apiece.

Roger W. Sullivan of Magie Apartments reported losing a set of golf clubs, bag and cart and a junior set with a combined value of $274 from a basement storage area in the building.

The victim told police that he had last seen his clubs December 1 when he was storing

New Pool Policy Set

A new policy for use of the Community Park pools by non-residents and non-resident taxpayers has been announced by the Princeton Recreation Department.

First, the department reports that no non-resident who has previously been given membership will be denied membership in 1971. Second, no new non-resident applicants will be accepted unless: they pay real estate taxes to either the Borough or Township; are employed by the Princeton Regional School system; or can show evidence of residential construction within Princeton boundaries. They must intend to live at their Princeton address.

Those who qualify under these conditions will be eligible to join the pool on a family basis at a non-resident rate. Non-residents seeking general admission will be admitted only as a guest of a resident member and will pay the non-resident rate.

WASTE

Progress Report. Mercer County's Improvement Authority expects to choose an engineer in the next ten days to study solid waste disposal, especially sites for a possible county-wide system, reported Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini to Committee Monday night.

Princeton's Sewer Operating Committee met Wednesday with the county. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, also reporting on the meeting, said "I'm reasonably confident Princeton's incinerator won't be shut down." He was referring to the approaching December 31 deadline set by state pollution officials.

The county's solid waste study would take only 90 days, Mr. Nini said. Donald Harney, Borough engineer, has asked for a meeting before December 31 with Commissioner Richard J. Sullivan of the Department of Environmental Protection, but indications seem to be that the meeting won't be held until early in 1971, Mr. Nini said.

Contracts with Metcalf and Eddy, the firm chosen for Princeton's own study, won't be signed until after the meeting with Commissioner Sullivan, Mayor Cawley said.

SEWER INCHES AHEAD

Regional Group Acts. The six-member Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Group may become a sewerage authority early this year and thereby qualify for the Federal and state funds necessary before a regional system can be built.

At a meeting Wednesday night, five of the six members agreed on a "memorandum of understanding" chiefly concerned with how each community will be charged for its share in the system.

Princeton Borough and Township, Hopewell Borough, Pennington and West Windsor were present. Hopewell Township was absent.

ges to participating towns will be on a flat rate according to monthly sewage flow. Originally, the Group had proposed a sliding scale with lower rates for the biggest users. Municipalities that are small now but expect future growth in West Windsor, for example, protested that it might be 20 years before the bulk rates would apply to them.

The new memo provides that charges will be adjusted every three years and municipalities reimbursed if actual flow is less than estimated. Each municipality will pay a minimum based on two thirds of the 1974 flow.

An Authority cannot be set up unless all six municipalities have passed parallel ordinances within the same calendar year.

Foster Jacobs, chairman of the Group, said he hopes governing bodies can start the ordinance machinery moving at the first meetings of the new year. It was hoped that the Authority could be established in 1970, but cost discussions caused delay.

By Zoning Board. Two cases scheduled to be heard by the Borough Zoning Board last week were postponed to its January meeting when only three board members appeared.

The applicants, Robert Tuschak, owner of Nature's Best, 242 Nassau Street, and Henry Campbell, 41½ Chestnut Street, were given the option of having their cases heard, in which they would need a unanimous vote from the three members present, or of returning in January. They have chosen the latter.

Mr. Tuschak wants to provide parking facilities for 10 persons, but can't provide off-street parking spaces. Mr. Campbell hopes to provide a parking space in a front yard, which is prohibited by the zoning ordinance.

Big Brothers Now Need Little Brothers

A month and a half ago there was a shortage of Big Brothers to match with a waiting list of 21 boys.

"We're seeking LITTLE Brothers now!" Wesley W. Walton, president of Big Brothers of Greater Princeton, told TOWN TOPICS.

"We've matched those boys, plus eight more, and we have an additional 16 volunteer Big Brothers waiting. We hope that adults who know of boys in need of a Big Brother as a special friend will call our social worker, Mrs. Barbara Steinberg, at Family Service."

Mrs. Steinberg, he adds, is charged with the delicate business of matching man and boy, screening and seeking compatible types and interests. She then moves into an advisory role for the Big Brother.

A new project of Big Brothers is an all-black program being developed in response to a number of requests. There's also a drive on for $2,500 to meet the budget which was originally based upon caring for approximately 15 boys during BBGP's first year in the field. Burnett H. Sams of 513 Prospect Avenue is treasurer.

Room Class and Club, a Square Dance Program, Squash Instruction, Yoga for Men and Ski Trips. In addition, 25 classes and groups in sports, fitness, aquatics and special interests will be continued.

Advanced Investments will be offered on four Monday evening two-hour sessions by Amile Vitella of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith. It is designed to give the student a broad view of the entire field of investments. Topics studied will include the relationship of the Federal Reserve Board's policies affecting money supplies and stock prices; selling short; puts and calls; portfolio analysis and adjustments.

Ron Rock will instruct the three Monday evening seminars on Fundamentals of Sailing to include; terminology, uses and structure of parts and equipment, technical aspects of wind and sail and pros and cons of various boats on the market.

The Y.M.C.A. Dark Room Photography Club is now organized with members sharing in the use and development of a new dark room facility. Those wishing to join the club are offered the opportunity by taking a four-evening instructive seminar on Dark Room Photography, meeting on Tuesday evening. Les Mertz will instruct.

The Square Dance Program will combine Instruction and Dancing for two hours each Wednesday evening for a 10-week period. Charles Kides will instruct in all steps, moves and dances stressing enjoyment and technique. If interest develops, a Square Dance Club is hoped for.

William Summers of Princeton University will instruct the Men's Winter Squash Classes, meeting Thursday evening at 7 and 8. Individual help allows for beginner through intermediate instruction and play.

The first Y.M.C.A. Ski Trip will be to the Snow Bowl on Saturday, January 9. The trips offer group rates in lessons, equipment and lift fees. Future trips will be planned to Great Gorge, Timberhill and Poco North.

Those wishing a Y.M.C.A. Program Annual, listing all activities, may drop in or call the Y.M.C.A. office.

Registration hours will be daily, 9 to 9, and Saturday to noon.

TO PROTEST WAR

On Christmas Eve, Princeton veterans of World War II will join Vietnam veterans in a Christmas Eve march protesting the war in Vietnam.

Members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War are scheduled to march from Pennsylvania across the Delaware to New Jersey this Thursday in symbol of George Washington's Christmas Eve crossing of the Delaware.

They will gather in Cadwallader Park in Trenton at approximately 2 p.m. and will then march to the State House where they will hear a talk by Captain Robert B. Johnson, the West Point graduate who resigned his commission in protest against the war.

Princeton veterans joining the march include Percy H. Wood Jr., Patrick J. Kelleher, Paul Fussell and John McCormick.

DEC. 31 IS DEADLINE

For Medicare Claims. December 31 is the deadline for filing Medicare medical insurance claims for services received October 1, 1968 through September 30, 1969 according to John J. Moorehead, Jr., social security district manager in Trenton.

Mr. Moorehead said that anyone needing claim forms for Medicare medical insurance or related information should call the Trenton social security office. The telephone number is 396-3545.

Club Provides Therapy for 11-Year Old Boys

ACTIVITY! That's the theme of Child Guidance's new Activity Group Treatment, launched this fall at the Guidance center. Here a young model shows how tools are an important part of activity for the kind of boy who acts out his problems. Dr. Hans K. Priester is the therapist.

The patient helps himself—the therapist is only there to help him help himself.

That is the underlying for a new kind of child therapy, "Activity Group Treatment" now in process on a sunny, renovated third floor at the Child Guidance Center on Nassau Street.

Here eight 11 year old boys gather for 90 minutes once a week, in their "club" (it's deliberately called that) with Dr. Hans K. Priester and a graduate student intern from Rutgers. The boys are in the age group that Dr. Priester calls the "latency age" — too old for play therapy, too young to talk about their problem like a 14 16 year old.

"Their problems are worked out with the help of the therapist, not talked about the kids are VERY active, and the club is geared to that," is the way Dr. Priester explains it.

It's a balanced group — if the word can be used. Some are boys who act out their problems. They get in to trouble with the police. They play hookey. They get into fights. Other boys are over controlled: shy, timid, inhibited.

Change comes in these youngsters through the balance. The inhibited boy sees, "Gee I can do that and not get into trouble! I can dare something!" The acting-out boy finds the close, protected inter action of the group a lot different from school or playground and he discovers that control helps him exist bet ter.

Tools are the tools in this kind of working out therapy. Hammers, saws, screwdrivers hang from a big pegboard on the wall and there is a little workbench. The quiet ones turn to Parchesi, or isolate themselves at an "isolation table" in an al cove.

The table is there on purpose, so the boy can with draw if all the noise and activity of the acting - outers frightens him. Maybe one of the active boys, curious about a solitary checker player, may come around to the isolation table where Paul Gerrish, the graduate student intern, is moving the pieces.

"But we don't say 'Would you like to play'?" Dr. Priester explains. "You sit at the game and look at the boy and let him know he has the choice."

Or, on a more active level, if an angry boy swings a hammer at another boy, "You don't act immediately; you wait, then take the hammer and say 'I need this now' so you do not give the boy a feeling of guilt."

"It's hard for the therapist," smiles Dr. Priester. "There's a strong pull on our stability and we're frightened sometimes."

Everything in the third floor room is where it is for a purpose. At one side is a big round table. At every club meeting, the boys gath er around the "family" table for a snack. Seriously deprived of emotion and love, the boys may eat like tigers, their physical hunger symbolic of a deeper hunger.

They are gathered togeth er to calm them down. The leader — a good father — serves the same portion to each boy. The rest is left on the table and the boys serve themselves. Sometimes a boy will eat five extra doughnuts, out of fear that he won't be nourished. If two boys want the last doughnut, they work that problem out themselves.

Deprived? Many of the boys have no father, and no father substitute. Dr. Priester explains. Years of emotional rejection may lie behind.

At an age when boys join Cub Scouts, or a similar group, these boys may never have belonged to any group. That's why the "club" idea is vital. A post-card, sent to a boy to remind him of a club meeting, may be the only mail he has ever received.

Or a boy may be "overly loved," over protected. He doesn't know how to be spon laneous. (Many teachers feel comfortable with boys like this: they are "good" in classrooms.)

As time goes on, in these afternoons full of hammering and sawing, of play with the roadway sets and the checker games, boys talk more about what's happening to them ("My father beat me.") A boy can bring it up in this "family group" with a father who shows a genuine, neutral interest.

Parents of the boys are assigned to a social worker who talks with them, helps them in allowing their child to grow, helps them examine their own problems: a mother's fears may be what make her over-protective, and she needs help to keep from being frightened.

The "club" began in September. Dr. Priester expects, from his past experience with such groups, that the boys will stay together for two or three years. Left-over therapy if it is needed, can be done on an individual basis.

"You can see the 'process'," Dr. Priester says. "After a time, the group doesn't need leaders so much — they decide themselves what they want to do. In the second year, they usually want to go out, to the zoo or to the University campus."

In Princeton, "Activity Group Treatment" is for boys. Girls who need therapy of this kind go to the Child Guidance Center in Trenton, where there is a woman therapist.

A Book In Your Stocking...

The Public Library likes to put a book-marker in the latest best-seller and turn, at Christmas time, to other books suitable for giving, that may never make the best-seller lists.

"Looking Forward," Brosseau, Ray
A fascinating collection of ads, cartoons, articles appearing in American magazines between 1895 and 1905, predicting life in the 20th century. $14.95.

"War Without Heroes," Duncan, David
The drama and bitterness of war captured by a great photographer. $14.95.

"The Movies," Griffith, Richard
An undated and revised history of the American movies. A classic. $19.95.

"Early American Antiques," Kirk, John T.
How to recognize, evaluate, buy and care for fine furniture. For the professional and the amateur. $17.50.

"The Pleasures of Archaeology," Meyer, Karl
An informed and authoritative introduction to the splendors of the past. Will start you on your own dig. $12.95.

"Great Songs of the Sixties," Okun, Milton
82 songs that echoed through the past 10 years, arranged for voice, piano, and guitar. $14.95.

"Moon: Man's Greatest Adventure," Von Braun, Wernher
A magnificent collection of photography and essays on man's greatest adventure. $35.00

MOBE LECTURES SET

By Historical Society Four free lectures on antiques will be given under the sponsorship of the Historical Society of Princeton on Tuesday mornings, beginning January 12. Participants will meet at 10 at Bainbridge House for coffee, moving to the parish house of the United Methodist Church at 10:30 for the lecture.

Speakers at the opening session will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chorley, who will discuss English pottery of the 17th and 18th Centuries. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michael follow on January 19 with a discussion of French, English and American antique furniture.

Jack K. Rimalover speaks on January 26 about American historical flasks and bottles. Mrs. Henry Savage will close the series on February 2 with a talk on American domestic silver.

The Society's annual meeting is set for 6 p.m. on January 7 in the convocation room of the Engineering Quadrangle. Hunter Ross will discuss "Documents Under Foot."

The collection of glass photographic plates showing Princeton houses is being researched by Mrs. Marguerite McAneny, and the Society appeals to all residents to help identify the photos and supply facts about their houses. There are some 60 to 70 houses in the community which were moved from one site to another during the 1920's. Mrs. McAneny is at Bainbridge House from 10 to 1 each day.

Also on the wanted list are Princeton directories for the years 1897-98, 1900-09, 1912, 1915, 1918, 1924, 1930, 1943-46, 1950-54, 1957-60, 1962, 1964 to date.

Junior Members. The Student Membership excavated in the Bainbridge back yard this past summer and fall, finding glass fragments, pottery, metal and shell. They unearthed a neatly laid stone foundation for a distance of ten feet. By counting the rings on the big elm tree when it was destroyed, the students believe that the foundation, which is underneath, must date back before the Civil War.

The students also restored the Schenck family cemetery during the summer. Located between Carnegie Lake and Route 1 near the Princeton Hospital Pete grounds, the cemetery contains tombstones dating from 1746 to 1941.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED

To State Historical Commission. Several Princeton area residents have been elected to a two year term on the New Jersey Historical Commission.

John T. Cunningham of Florham Park, writer and historian, was elected chairman of the Commission. He was formerly vice chairman.

The Commission also named as its new vice-chairman Assemblyman William E. Schluter of Mercer County and re-elected Eleanore N. Shoman of Highstown as secretary.

The new chairman succeeds Richard P. McCormick of Rutgers, the State University, who served in that office since the Commission was established in 1967.

Other members of the Commission are Senator Raymond H. Bateman of Somerset County, Henry N. Drewry of Princeton University, former Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of Haddonfield, Senator Frederick H. Hauser of Hudson County. As semblyman Ronald Owens of Essex County, Donald A. Sinclair of Rutgers University Library and ex officio Roger H. McDonough of Princeton, State Librarian, and David N. Poinsett of East Windsor, Supervisor of Historic Sites.

AN HONORED PRINCETONIAN SERENADED: B. Franklin Bunn, a resident guest at Merwick, listens to the music of the Nassoons, who made a recent visit to the extended care facility to present a program of Christmas carols. One of their songs, "East of the Sun and West of the Moon," had no Christmas connection, but a special meaning for Mr. Bunn, a longtime friend of the Triangle Club.

Mr. Cunningham is the author of numerous books on the state's history, as well as hundreds of newspaper and magazine articles and film and television scripts.

Assemblyman Schluter has been a member of the state legislature since 1968, representing Suburban Mercer County, District 6A. A former Pennington Councilman, he is a member of the New Jersey County and Municipal Government Study Commission, the Election Law Revision Commission, and is on the Founding Committee of the Princeton Battlefield Area Preservation Society.

MERWICK ALIVE

With Pre-Christmas Events. Many organization, school and church groups are providing entertainment, music, decorations and gifts for the some 90 convalescing patients and resident guests at Merwick during pre-Christmas festivities.

A serenade by the Nassoons of Princeton University during a gourmet dinner featuring broiled lobster tails last week is typical of the festivities. Merwick's Dietary Department supervised by Mrs. Julia Miller served the dinner in the main dining room.

Although the young singers had a program of carols, they sang "Old Nassau" at the request of a guest, Walter H. F. Grau, a 1908 Princeton graduate. Later as they sang their way along the corridors in a serenade to patients, the Nassoons came to the room of B. Franklin Bunn of the 1907 Class. Crowding into the room trimmed with dozens of greeting cards, the young men saluted Mr. Bunn, perhaps Princeton's most honored citizen.

He joined them in "Old Nassau" and listened intently as they sang "East of the Sun and West of the Moon." The song by Brooks Bowman, 1936 Class, is the "hit" song from the 1935 Princeton Triangle Club show entitled "Stags at Bay." Mr. Bunn was associated with Triangle and McCarter Theatre for many years.

$100,000 GRANT GIVEN

To Princeton University. The control of wars and the development of institutions leading to a peaceful world order are among the significant issues that will soon be studied in depth at Princeton University thanks to a $100,000 grant from Mr. and Mrs. Randolph P. Compton of Scarsdale, New York.

The grant — contributed through The Fund for Peace, the New York Foundation of which Mr. Compton is chairman, and announced today by Princeton President Robert F. Goheen — establishes a World Order Studies Program within Princeton's Center of International Studies in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

Directed by a faculty committee, the new program will focus on the institutional, normative, and behavioral problems associated with developing a peaceful world order. Topics of research and instruction will include the values and procedures that would characterize a peaceful world order, international solutions to common domestic problems, and international law and organization.

The program will revolve around pre-doctoral and post-doctoral work. Younger scholars will be awarded John Parker Compton Fellowships, honoring the memory of the Comptons' late son, a member of Princeton's Class of 1947, who was killed in World War II. Every effort will be made to attract from minority groups well qualified students for both pre-doctoral and post-doctoral grants.

The development of teaching in this field and orientation of higher education toward issues concerning world order are two emphases of the program which both The Fund and Princeton hope will attract additional support.

The program will be guided initially by Professors Cyril E. Black, chairman, Duke Professor of Russian History, Richard A. Falk, Albert G. Milbank, Professor of International Law Practice; and Richard H. Ullman, Associate Dean and Director of the Graduate Program, Woodrow Wilson School.

Mr. Compton, a Princeton graduate also with The Class of 1915, and his wife, Dorothy Danforth Compton, have long been supporters of the University with special interests in international studies.

TOWNS ADVISED

On Waste Disposal Licenses. William E. Ozzard, President of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners has issued an Advisory Opinion informing municipalities that they no longer have the right to impose fees for the issuance of licenses to engage in solid waste collection or disposal.

The PUC's Order cites the New Jersey statute and a case decided on November 23, 1970 (Ringlieb vs. Township of Parsippany - Troy Hills). In this case, it was held that the Public Utility Commission has exclusive jurisdiction to impose licensing fees and that the Solid Waste Utility Control Act preempts the municipalities' right to impose such fees.

The Board warned that the enactment of municipal ordinances in violation of state statute would be void and of no force or effect to the extent that they conflict with the Solid Waste Utility Control Act.

Mrs. Loretta K. Ward of Harris Road, Princeton Junction, has marked her 25th service anniversary with the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Mrs. Ward is business office supervisor at the company's Trenton office. A member of Trenton Burlington Council, H. G. McCully Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, she is first vice president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton.

Prof. Steve M. Slaby, Associate Professor of Graphics at Princeton University, coordinated the presentations and discussions on theoretical graphics at the midyear meeting of the Engineering Design Graphics Division of the American Society for Engineering Education, hosted this year by the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. The midyear meeting provided a national forum for leading engineering educators from many American universities and foreign countries to exchange professional views in the graphics and design specialties.

Three members of the Trenton State College faculty from this area have received promotions. Dr. Norval C. Kern, Snydertown Road, Hopewell, was made a full professor in the art department. Dr. Charles Goldberg, 103 Linden Lane, was moved up to an associate professor in the mathematics department; and Dr. Arthur V. Hohmuth, 18 Quarry Street, was promoted to assistant professor in the psychology department.

Mrs. Jane Lithgow of Princeton was named an assistant professor of nursing at Trenton State. Previously a captain in the USAF Nurse Corps, Mrs. Lathgow served on the faculty at Central Missouri State College. She holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Iowa and a masters in nursing from the University of Washington.

Prof. George T. Reynolds, '43 McCosh Circle, has been appointed Director of Princeton University's newly-established Center for Environmental Studies. The new Center, which has been brought into being as a major element of the Council of Environmental Studies, will draw its membership from faculty and staff members in departments throughout the University, including social, physical, life and engineering scientists.

Dr. Reynolds, a member of the Princeton Faculty since 1946 and for the past 18 years Director of the Elementary Particles Laboratory, said today that "an important initial focus of the Center's activities will be a comprehensive study of the environmental effects of energy production, distribution and consumption in the United States."

A native of Trenton, who earned his advanced degrees at Princeton following graduation from Rutgers University in 1939, Prof. Reynolds was first Director of Princeton's Program in Science in Human Affairs, initiated to supplement departmental work in the humanities and social sciences by providing the means for increasing scientific literacy and an understanding of the nature of scientific enterprise.

Richard W. Baker 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baker of 1 Armour Road, is among those who helped prepare a major modernization plan for the State Department, one which Secretary William P. Rogers has said "will greatly strengthen the department and make possible more effective management of our foreign relations."

Mr. Baker was a member of the task force concerned with "The Role of the Country Director" in preparation of the plan. Presently serving as staff assistant to the Department's Under Secretary, he has been stationed in Singapore and Washington since entering the Foreign Service.

Tiger Five Loses Two of Three Games in West

If the pre-Christmas pattern woven by Princeton's sophomore dominated team holds true to form when the Ivy race begins shortly after the New Year, the Tigers will play hot and cold basketball for the next two months. After giving one of the worst performances in several years while losing to St. Louis, 85-52, they bounced back against Stanford with an 81-76 triumph but then fell to Memphis State, 86-77. (See page 26.)

Now they are idle until Saturday, January 2, when they take on a good Fordham team in New York. Forty-eight hours later, it will be defending champion Penn in Jadwin Gym, followed by one of the toughest road trips in years to play suddenly remodelled Dartmouth and Harvard teams. If this portion of the schedule brings forth a cold performance by the young Princetonians, it will be all over early, including the shouting.

The Tigers got Brian Taylor back for the St. Louis game and then did little more than stand around and watch him. Despite his recent ankle sprain he scored 21 points — 17 of them in the first half before being benched early in the final period to protect him against recurrence of the injury.

By then, the game was far out of reach. The team's performance was reminiscent of the days when Bill Bradley was carrying four guys named Joe on his back. Just as Bradley did, Taylor scored more points while he was on the floor than all the other Tiger players combined.

It was 38-28 against Princeton at the intermission. Taylor had 17 and the others, with Al Duffy replacing Bill Danke in the starting lineup, had 11. By the time Taylor was withdrawn, it was 60 to 39 for St. Louis, he had 21 and was still ahead of the 18 of his cold shooting teammates managed to produce.

Constant turnovers bothered the Orange and Black in the early going, and they compounded their miseries by shooting only 32% from the floor and 67% at the free throw line. Even more astounding, however, was the deficit in rebounding, which saw them trail the victors, 61 to 34. Coach Pete Carril admitted that a Princeton team had ever been beaten on the boards that badly.

If the outcome was highly satisfactory in St. Louis, it was sensational in Cambridge, Mass., where Harvard has visions of its best showing in the Ivy League's long history. Three days earlier, the sophomores leading the Crimson out of the wilderness carried St. Louis to the final buzzer before losing, 65-64, on a last second foul shot.

Hot, Cold, Then Hot. Fascinatingly, the miserable showing Thursday night in the first game of the western swing was followed by an eye popping 63% shooting average in the first half Saturday against Stanford. Then, after boosting their 48-36 margin at the intermission to 60-43 in the early minutes of the final round, the Tigers very nearly gave it all back.

All but a single point of that 17-point lead went down the drain as Princeton began to coast prematurely. A Stanford quintet that was giving away three inches to Bill Kapler and Bill Danke began to dominate both backboards, added some fine shooting of its own and very nearly helped the Tigers snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

With 4:30 to go, the gap had been cut to 70-69 for the visitors and after they had boosted this to 77-73, a three-point play again whittled their margin to 77-76. However, if they had been guilty of loosening the pressure too soon, at least it was greatly to the young Tigers' credit that they were able to regain the necessary momentum.

They clamped down on further Stanford scoring at 76 points. Bringing the ball down court with 1:14 to go, Ted Manakas directed a freeze that ate better than half a minute off the clock, was fouled and converted twice on one-and-one. The Indians' attempt at a field goal was rebounded by Princeton and Manakas promptly duplicated the freeze and double foul conversion with eight seconds left to pilot the Ivy Leaguers home free.

THE MEN IN CHARGE: Pete Carril (right) is building for the future with a sophomore-dominated basketball team which has high hopes of regaining the Ivy title for Princeton during its tenure in Jadwin Gym. Art Hyland, freshman coach, has compiled a two-season winning streak of 21 games with first-year quintets at Princeton.

Taylor Hot, Too. Hitting on six of his first nine shots, Taylor was hot not only with the ball but without it. Called for two personals in less than two minutes, he was tagged with a third before the period was half gone and then slapped with a technical for objecting to the official.

but the Tiger coach must have agreed with his player's opinion, because he, too, drew a technical a few minutes later. The Orange and Black was fortunate that the display of emotions did not affect the final outcome.

Taylor returned to play the entire second half without drawing a fourth foul. He added 12 more valuable points, several of them at crucial moments toward the end of the close contest, and led all scoring with 24. Captain Bill Sickler added 21 for a career high, and Manakas followed with 18, capped by the four under extreme pressure.

It was Princeton's second victory over Stanford in two games with the Pacific Coast quintet. The Tigers won in 1968, 77 to 66.

SKATERS HEAD WEST

To Play in Tournament. Hopeful that realigned offense will lead to better fortunes, Princeton's hockey team will resume action immediately after Christmas in a two day tournament at St. Louis. Unfortunately for the Tigers, the calibre of the opposition is such that a victory is unlikely.

They open Sunday against Wisconsin, one of the better of the Big Ten colleges which play the sport. The Badgers hold two convincing victories over Brown to their credit, and the Tigers could not stick with the Bruins at Providence last week.

On Monday, Princeton will skate against either the host team, St. Louis, or Boston College, depending on the outcome of Sunday's games. Odds are it will be St. Louis, since B. C. and Wisconsin are the strongest of the four teams in the event. Earlier this month, the Tigers were trounced here by Boston College, 8-2.

The first game in 1971 will find the Orange and Black entertaining Clarkson in Baker Rink on Saturday, January 2. Unlike most home games, it's an 8 p.m. contest. The later starting time was necessitated by the fact that the New York State sextet is playing Harvard on New Year's night taking a bus from Potsdam to Princeton next day before meeting the Tigers — highly unusual scheduling, to say the least.

Stucky beat the Brown goalie, Princeton had the makings of an upset in hand last Wednesday at Providence. The Bruins drew even, but the Orange and Black kept peppering away with considerable success, and at the 12-minute mark of the second round, it was a somewhat astounding 4-1 margin for the winless visitors.

Sophomore Tom Hameline moved up from the defense to center the line with John Heppburn and Roger Kyle, scored twice, his second goal giving the Orange and Black what might normally be an insurmountable lead. But Brown narrowed the margin to 4-3 before the period ended, scoring for the second time in the rally with eight seconds left while it was a man short.

The Bruins drew even at 1:52 of the final round, took a 5-4 lead less than three minutes later but were tied again at 9:04 when Art Schmon got the fifth goal of a vastly improved Princeton attack. It all went for naught, however, when Brown beat the Tiger defense for the sixth time midway through the period and then rode out the final ten minutes without trouble.

Friday night at Boston, Northeastern turned back the somewhat dejected Princetonians, 3 to 2, for their sixth straight defeat. Their problem now is that having lost to Army and Northeastern, they have been beaten by the two weakest teams on their schedule and it is difficult to determine just when they will win a game.

PHS ONE OF EIGHT

In Mat Tourney. Shunning the Central Jersey High School Wrestling Tournament involving Mercer County schools, the Princeton High wrestling team will participate instead in the Lower Moreland Invitational.

The all-day event will be held Tuesday at the host school, Lower Moreland High School in Pennsylvania. Other schools, in addition to PHS, include Upper Moreland, Bryn Athyn, Council Rock, Hatboro and Upper Darby, all in Pennsylvania, and Bayport, Long Island.

"It's a very big tournament and good competition," said PHS coach Tom Murray. It's a double elimination, a wrest

Occasionally you may need a little help

Help in the farm of a loan. Far a lot of reasons, money can be very helpful. And the reasons don't have to be as dramatic as serpents in a pit. It could just be that your old car is a serpent of a kind . . . the kind that eats dollars in the form of repair bills. Perhaps your dragon is a college tuition bill for junior. Or a washing machine that spits out dirty clothes. At First National we have all types of dragon-slayer loans. And just plain loan-loans too. That's for nice problems like vacations. Stop in at any of our four offices.

ler has to lose twice before being ousted.

Best bets for the title from among the Little Tigers are Loudohn Rossi, undefeated PHS heavyweight, who has scored pins in both his matches this year, and Andy Fultiny and Dave MacDonald Fultiny wrestles in the 98 pound class; MacDonald, co captain of the team, competes in the 115 pound level.

Following the tournament PHS (1 1) will resume dual meet competition January 8 at Lawrence High School.

PHS VS. UNION

In Basketball Tournament

Much more quickly than he had hoped, PHS basketball coach Larry Ivan is faced with a must win situation: his Little Tigers have got to start winning; they lost their first four in a row and consistently, or they can forget about that berth in the NJSIAA tourney.

The Little Tigers, who lost 83-46 to Trenton on Friday will jump out of the frying pan into the fire when they tangle next with north Jersey power Union High in the opening round of the Summit Tourney. PHS will oppose Union at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Bridgewater West high school gym, after which Berkley Heights will meet Cranford. Winners and losers will meet the following evening.

This is A-1 competition and perhaps the Blue and White is over its head. But, as Ivan remarked earlier in a tourney such as this, a team can get sky high and "anything can happen."

Against Trenton, if one were to take away the play under the boards, PHS almost held its own. They only made four outside shots the whole game," said Ivan. "That's all they have; take away their play underneath and they're just an ordinary team."

Such reasoning is tantamount to taking the motor out of a car and complaining that it won't go. Rebounding and board strength is the heart of the Tornadoes. The stat sheets tell the story of the game in one glimpse; the area under the Trenton basket looks as if it were hit by bucksho under the Princeton basket are just a few scattered marks.

THAT A GOOD BIG MAN will beat a good small man — one of sports' hoariest axioms — is demonstrated by Trenton's Lou Hill (53) as he goes up for a shot against PHS. Defending are Tim Nuding and Cliff Carter (hidden by Hill). Hill was second high scorer in the contest with 26 points in 83-46 Trenton win Friday.

La k of outside shooting is going to catch up to Trenton sooner or later but against the shorter Little Tigers it didn't much matter. Waiting to take care of any missed shots were the likes of Lew Hill (6 5), Jim Womak (6 4), who combined for 49 points, and 6 3 Hal Johnson. The only question was which of the three would get the tap in.

If height weren't enough, the THS press was so bother some to the home team that it was an accomplishment just being able to bring the ball into the forecourt. When it did manage to get a shot off, PHS watched PHS block shots with such force that some bounded off the walls of the gym.

Proud of Team Despite the match, the Little Tigers had nothing to be ashamed of. "I'm very proud of them," said Ivan. "They played a good game. They hustled out h r."

It is a tribute to the Little Tigers' dogged play that THS coach Jim Schlimm did not send in his reserves until 4:08 remained to play. In the final period, when PHS looened up a bit, it played Trenton even, getting 14 to the latter's 15 points.

Bill Evers was high for the losers with 11. Tim Nunding, 6 3, who started, had seven points and Kent Bain and Bob Sweeney added six apiece.

THS shot 15 for 37 in the first half and was a perfect 8 for 8 from the foul line. PHS hit on eight of 22 shots and converted just two free throws.

HUN FIVE SPLITS

Hightstown Tourney Next.

The Hun School basketball team split its first two games of the season last week, toppling Morristown Prep Friday, 55-43, and losing its opener two days earlier to Toms River, 49-41.

Hun will keep busy during the holidays, competing in the Hightstown Tourney Tuesday and Wednesday. In the opening round, Hun will face Pemberton at 7 in the Hightstown High School gym, and Lawrence High will oppose Hightstown in the second game. "Pemberton has most of its players back from last year, so it will be a tough game for us," commented Hun coach Dave Leete. In the same tourney last year, Hun finished third.

In the school's home opener against Morristown, Rick Ziegler, Dirk Whitehead and Alan Chabfoux combined for 47 of Hun's 55 points, Ziegler hitting for a game-high 18. Whitehead had 15 and Chabfoux 14. Hun put the game out of reach when it outscored the visitors, 26-14, in the second and third periods.

Instrumental in the win was the rebounding of Dirk Whitehead, who, Leete said, "(must have had 25 rebounds in the game. He's not that tall, but he's big and strong and gets good position," Leete added.

Whitehead is 6 3 and when the All Prep School tackle plants his 230 pounds on the floor, no one is going to move him aside. "We looked better in the second game," Leete observed, "but we still have a way to go."

Shooting Goes Cold In the opener against Toms River, Hun, ahead by three at the start of the final period, suddenly saw its shooting turn frigid; it failed to make a single field goal. Said Leete, "It was a tough last quarter; the ball just wouldn't go in." Hun managed to convert seven foul shots but it lost its lead and the game, 49-41.

Chalifoux was high for the losers with 12 points. Ziegler pulled down 15 rebounds and added seven points while Whitehead had nine. Co-captain Lee Van Horn scored six.

PHS BOWS, 11-3

In Hockey Opener. "They were a big, raw-boned, experienced team out for blood and they got it," said Eugene Doherty, PHS hockey coach, of Cranford - Princeton's first opponent of the new season.

Doherty, in his first game as coach, watched his skaters go down, 11-3, Friday at the Princeton Day School rink. "I don't think it was a case of first-game jitters, either," he added. "They were just too big and strong for us."

PHS breaks for the holiday and will square-off next on January 7 against Wissahickon, Philadelphia.

The Cranford Hockey Club wasted little time in getting to the Little Tigers. It scored in the first 10 seconds when "a cheap shot filtered in," said Doherty. The visitors scored their second goal before the first minute was up." After that, we played them even for a long time," commented Doherty.

Steve Sanford got two of Princeton's three goals, Alex Lamar accounting for the third. They, John Weber and Mark Richards all played a fine game, Doherty reported.

He also cited the fine play of PHS goalie Brooks Mohr man who, he said, had about 30 saves. "He must have felt like he was in a rifle range," Doherty quipped.

28 Princeton Junior Players Ranked by MSTA

An indication of the success of the Princeton Community Tennis Program was shown last week when 28 junior players from this area were ranked by the Middle States Tennis Association at its annual meeting. Princeton had the highest number of students that have ever received this kind of recognition for their record in tournament competition.

To be ranked by the Middle States, a player must go into at least three USLTA sanctioned tournaments in the Middle States section. Co-directors of the program, John Conroy and Eve Kraft credit the large increase in ranked students to Bill Cullen, who conducted an intensive advanced training group. All of the Cullen players who went into the required number of tournaments qualified for ranking.

John Conroy

Top of the list of those receiving ranking was Steve Tohelsky who was rated second in the 16 and under boys. Mary Lapidus received a No. 8 ranking in the 18 and under girls and Vicki Austin No. 9 in the 16 and under girls and also No. 11 in the 18 and under girls. Terry Blake was ranked No. 15 in 16 and under girls and Jay Lapidus No. 14 in boys 12 and under. Danny Thompson placed No 11 in the 16 and under boys and Michael Glouchevitch No. 14.

Others who received rankings are as follows: 18 and under girls, Mary Ellen Hirst, Dede Pickering, Terry Blake. 16 and under girls, Sharon Baumer, Randy Gulick; 12 and under girls, Libby Hicks, 18 and under boys, Steve Tobolsky, Robert Sonnenschein; 16 and under boys, Chris Lillie, Bill Schmidt, Scott Mead; 14 and under boys, Nick Glouchevitch, Buff Burchfield; 12 and under boys, Keith Usiskin, Jeff Lyle.

In girls doubles: Mary Ellen Hirst, Cindy Shoemaker and Leslie Aldridge. In boys doubles: David Baumer and Buff Burchfield.

Conroy was honored as the Middle States nominee for the Samuel Hardy Award made each year by the USLTA at its annual meeting in February to the person giving the most outstanding service to tennis education programs. Each of the 17 USLTA sections chooses a nominee.

BELMONT HILL WINS

In Schoolboy Hockey. The defending champions, Upper Canada College, fell to fourth place and second-seeded Belmonth Hill won the title last weekend in the 23d annual Lawrenveville Hockey Tournament.

Belmont Hill, a day school in the Boston area which annually produces a number of fine players, blanked one of the Canadian entries, Trinity College School of Ontario, 3 to 0, in the opening round. Friday evening, Choate put up a strong battle before losing to the Massachusetts skaters, 3 to 4. In the two games, Gordon Scannel, Belmont Hill captain, scored five goals and an assist.

Unseeded Taft reached the final with a 6-1 victory over Deerfield in the Friday morning round and then eliminated Upper Canada, 7-4, in the semifinals. The championship game was a close battle for two periods, which ended with the score deadlocked at 1-all, but Belmont Hill pumped in six goals in the final round to win it all, 7 to 1.

Choate achieved its best finish in more than two decades of the tournament when it defeated Upper Canada, 6 to 5. Trinity College won from Deerfield, 5-2, to take fifth place, while Nichols School of Buffalo won from Lawrenceville, 6-2, to earn seventh place. The Larries failed to win any of their three games, losing to Upper Canada, 6-3, and then to Deerfield, 6-2.

In other first-round action, Choate defeated Nichols, 5-3. Games were played in Baker and Lavino rinks.

BELLE MOUNTAIN READY

When Weather Is. Featuring a new junior lift and ski trail, Belle Mountain is more than ready to accommodate area skiers, if the weatherman will cooperate.

Superintendent of Parks James Haggerty and his 25-man crew began manufacturing snow on December 6 when the temperature dropped below 28 degrees, but the rain last week ruined it and the above normal temperatures over the weekend have precluded making more.

As soon as the weather remains well below freezing for several consecutive days, Belle Mountain's 70 snow guns will be activated.

A ski school staffed by 15 instructors led by Willi F. Kehrer, will operate daily from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 Monday through Saturday. Evening classes will be conducted from 7 to 9 Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Group lessons for children, 12 and under, are $1 and $2 for adults.

Four trails will be open: expert, intermediate, and two beginner. These will be patrolled by 30 ski patrolmen to insure safety and assist in first aid.

County residents may purchase identification cards, $1 for children and $2 for adults, before the season begins. This allows the skier to pay a lower rate for daily lift tickets than a non-resident.

Belle Mountain is located off Route 29, three miles north of Washington Crossing. When there is enough snow to open the trails, announcements will be broadcast on area radio stations. The Belle Mountain telephone number is 397-0043.

TIGERS LOSE ANOTHER

Beaten by Memphis State

Unable to continue a rally that had shaved a 12-point deficit to 2, Princeton's touring basketball team lost the final contest of a three-game western swing Monday night to Memphis State. The 86-77 defeat was marked by frequent Tiger errors that ranged from offensive fouls to traveling violations and inadequate defense.

It was the losers defensive deficiencies which cost them the ball game, as the Missouri Valley Conference team was invariably able to find the basket to protect the lead it took early in the first half. Princeton led in the early going, 14-7, but ran into foul trouble quickly and trailed at the intermission, 47 to 38. The home team shot at a 54 per cent clip during the first 20 minutes, and that eventually provided the margin of victory. Both teams scored 33 points in the final half.

Three Princeton starters — Brian Taylor, Bill Daake and Bill Kapler — all were tagged with three personals in the first period, and all spent some time on the bench. Eventually, Captain Bill Sickler was the first to foul out, followed shortly by Daake.

From the nine-point half time deficit, the Orange and Black moved painfully back to 52-48, 58-54 and, with seven minutes to go, to 70-68. That was as close as it came, however, the home team scoring nine points in the next three minutes while limiting the losers to one.

Taylor led all scorers with 28 but could not hit from the foul line, twice on one and one situations. He also experienced more defensive difficulties than had been anticipated.

Now the Tigers are 3-4 on the season and there is a real question whether they will be even that close to the .500 mark by the time a tough month of January ball is over. Fordham, Dartmouth, Harvard, Davidson and two games with Penn are on the schedule, and off the brand of play so far, none of these contests will find the Tigers favored.

ONE YEAR REVERSAL

PDS Blanked In New England, What a difference a year can make. Princeton Day, the defending champion in the Milton Noble and Greenough hockey tournament, returned to the scene of its three-game sweep last year and was beaten badly in three consecutive games, finishing last.

Ornesksoldvik High School of Sweden, a big team with superb teamwork, captured the championship this year with a 7-0 victory over Kimball Union Academy in the finals. The only team to pressure the Swedes at all was Exeter, which lost 4-2.

The Panthers played their closest contest against Noble and Greenough in the opening round, losing 6-3. PDS rarely got the puck out of its zone in the first period, but fine goal tending by Tom O'Connor kept Noble scoreless.

In the second period, Bob Hult got the Panthers off to a 1-0 lead. However, Noble answered with three quick goals and PDS never caught up. John Moore made it 3-2 later in the period, but that was as close as the Panthers could come. Art Mittnacht got the final tally.

In the second game, Milton avenged last year's loss to the Panthers with a 7-0 shutout, O'Connor stopped 32 shots.

In the battle for seventh place, Hotchkiss jumped off to a five goal lead in the first period, and coasted home the rest of the way. PDS played its best hockey of the tournament in the third period, but it was too late with too little. Final score was 8-2 with Buzz Woodworth and Sam Rodgers scoring.

In PDS's defense it went into the tournament with no more than one scrimmage against Lawrenceville under its belt, while the other New England teams had all played a couple of regular season games.

After a break for the holidays, the Blue and White will face Cranford Hockey Club at home Wednesday, January 6. Last year in two meetings, PDS scored 11 goals while giving up none against Cranford, but this year the visitors appear to be stronger. They whipped a weak Princeton High team 11-3 last week.

PDS will not play Princeton High on the varsity level this year, because of the disparity between the two teams. The Panthers have squads will play PHS, instead, and it should be a better match up.

PHS FIVE WINS FIRST

45-37 Over Hillsborough. The winless tag that has hung around the neck of the Princeton High School basketball team like an albatross dropped off Monday when it defeated winless (0-5) Hillsborough, 45-37. It was the Little Tigers' first victory in five starts.

The visiting Blue and White edged the home team from one to three points in every period and led throughout. Leon Robinson, the sophomore center, and Cliff "Cubic" Carter led a balanced attack, scoring nine points apiece.

Bill Evers added eight more. Daryl Boone seven, co-captain Bob Sweeney five, and Dave Fry four. The losers' Jack Stanczak hit for a game high 15 points.

VARSITY Ps AWARDED

For PHS Fall Sports. A total of 191 letters have been awarded to Princeton High School athletes in the fall sports of football, soccer and cross country, according to outgoing athletic director Joseph Jungeli. Jingoli reported that there were 82 athletic events held in the period.

Awarded Ps in football were Scott Bernarde, Daryl Boone, Pat Connelly, Mark Cuomo, John Drummond, Bob Gaustad, John Hodges, John Hulit, Richard Jackson, Peter Kaufmann, Isaac Menasche, Dave O'Brien, Lawrence Parker, Larry Ritchey, LouJohn Rossi, Gig Weisbecker, Phil White, Chris Lathan, Edward Lechner, Kevin Smith and John Schumacker. Also, these juniors: Hyette Briscoe, Tony Federico, Joe Gallo, Bart Harris, Joe McGuinn, Ron Rhodes, Ray Richards, Steve Sanford, Ned Fry and Mark Tompkins.

In soccer: Jon Bartels, Ciro Baldino, Jim Bolster, George Boccanfuso, Cliff Carter, Marco de Grazia, David Fry, Nick Guadioso, Tom Graves, Tony Guglielmi, Malcolm Huckins, Lee Langston, Bob Mangan, Joe Moffo, Brooks Mohrman, Anthony Iacono, Chris Cassard, Bernie Shanfield, Eric Solomon, Steve Stone, James Ward, Dave Weiner and Stephen Woodside.

In cross country: Joe Bolster, Dave Cornell, Ron Zollars, Pete Ambrus, Steve Snow, Roland Smith, Steve Woodside and Mark Perry.

BOWLING NOTES

Forsyth Rolls 215. Dail Forsyth last week fashioned the first 200 game in the Business Women's League, rolling 215 — 82 pins over her average.

Ann Pfister had 185, Margaret Schmidt 179, Irene Smith 171-164, and Kay Higgins, 169.

Bucci Builders leads in the standings with 60 points, followed by Balestrieri (50) and Ivy Inn (48).

Harry Kahny rolled 220 in the A League last week. His Ivy Inn teammates, Sam Lisi, Bill Murphy and Jim Kahny had 212 and 207s respectively.

Frank Cawley of Antler's rolled 220-200, while Wes Cawley and Dick Fowler, also of Antlers, had 202 and 209. Bob King had a 210 and Jim Case, 202.

Mike Kopliner with a 222 was high man in the Nassau League. He rolls for Tiger Garage. Between 203 and 200 were Jim Shely, Jim Wheeler, Jack McNeil, Dick Traegler and Charles Perpetua Jr.

Grover Lumber has widened its lead over Princeton Aviation to 63-54. Pressing Aviation are Hinkson's (52), Hill (51) and First Aid and Kingston Wine and Liquor (50 each).

A poor 157 first-game prevented Bill Davall of No. 3 from rolling a 600 series in the Tri County Fireman's League. He finished with 222-220 for a 599. Teammate Nelson Davison had 213. Dick Anderson (211) and Henry Stuphin (204) were the only other two to break 200.

Rich Rodefeld of Princeton Junction rolled 196-199 which was almost duplicated by Dutch Neck's Stan Tantum, who posted a 196-194. In the 190s were Robert McDonald, Jack Zinsmeister, Mike Kopliner, Frank Maddalon, George Pierre, Andrew Cupples and Wally Brown.

Rocky Hill has 58 points and the league lead. No. 3 trails with 54, followed by Princeton Junction which has 50.

In the Blue Angels Hi Y League, Greg Kline rolled a consistent 171-155-161 for 487. Jeff Petrone had 150.

PRESS HONORS TWO

Upon Retirement, P.J. Conkwright, designer and typographer, and Irving M. Updike, Plant and Production Manager, each of whom is retiring this month from Princeton University Press after more than 30 years of service, were recognized for their contributions to the Press at its annual meeting last week.

At the meeting, Mr. Cinkwright and Mr. Updike were honored by tributes from Raymone C. Harwood, President of the Board of Trustees of Princeton University Press; Dr. Robert F. Goheen, President of Princeton University; Henry A. Laughlin, former Trustee and President of Princeton University Press; and Michael J. Plumeri, Foreman of the Press Room.

Among the many remarks in appreciation of their service, were those expressed by Dr. Goheen, "It goes without saying that the books published by the Press, as designed and produced by P. J. and Irving, serve the purpose of education and scholarship and reflect much credit on the University."

On the occasion of their retirement, Mr. Harwood presented Mr. Conkwright and Mr. Updike with a travel fund, a gift from the Trustees of the Press. Herbert .S Bailey, Jr., Director of the Tress, announced a new medal for senior employees, which he then presented to Mr. Conkwright and Mr. Updike, as well as 21 other senior staff members. A reception at Prospect followed the assembly.

Mr. Conkwright has worked for Princeton University Press since 1939 as a book designer and typographer. He is a gold medal winner of the American Institute of Graphic Arts.

P. J. Conkwright

Irving M. Updike

In 1964, he received an honorary Litt.D. from the University of Kentucky. Over the years more than 50 books of Mr. Conkwright's design have been selected for the A.I.G.A Fifty Books of the Year show.

Mr. Updike joined the Press in 1933 as an accountant, and later became Plant Manager, and then Plant and Production Manager. In 1964 when the construction of a new printing plant and warehouse was approved, Mr. Updike was deeply involved in the plans, and from then until the dedication of the building in December 1965, he was directly responsible for it, work ork in with the architects a gnd with the builders.

Medals for 25 or more years service were also presented by Mr. Bailey to the following Press employees: Miss Harriet M. Anderson, Mrs. Marion O. Anderson, Miss R. Miriam Brokaw, Donald F. Buchele, Mrs. Jean F. Busch, Miss Grace A. Callahan, Harry F. Conover, James J. Crawford, Mrs. Eleanor E. Dunn, Miss Florence A. Golden, B. Carl Hillman, Kurt Kleinman, Robert H. Kreiling, Miss Helen W. Maple, Michael J. Plumeri, Miss Anne E. St. George, Albert T. Siewark, George H Steward, Mrs. Helen Van Zandt, Miss Marjorie T. Weiland, Charles W. Widman.

NEEDY FAMILIES AIDED By First National Employees

At least two families in the Princeton area will enjoy a merrier Christmas this week thanks to the 100 employees of the First National Bank.

For the fourth straight Christmas, First National employees have donated to this "needy family fund." The idea for this community - minded program "just happened" four years ago, a bank official said, and has been a growing tradition ever since.

Originally, employees had been purchasing $1 gifts and exchanging them among themselves at Christmas time. The new tradition, however, seems to generate more enthusiasm, said Anthony Tevere, chairman of this year's fund.

This week, a check for nearly $125 will be presented to the Mercer County Welfare Department for distribution to families in Princeton.

RCA SCIENTIST HONORED Elected Fellow of IEEE.

Dr. Rabah Shahbender, 107 Autumn Hill Road, has been elected a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. He is Head of Digital Devices Research at RCA Laboratories.

Fellow is the highest membership grade attainable in the IEEE, conferred only upon persons of outstanding qualifications and eminent achievement in their particular fields of interest.

Dr Shahbender was honored "for contributions to magnetic and ultrasonic devices and computer memories." A native of Damascus, Syria, he received his B.E.E. degree from Cairo University in 1946. Washington University awarded him a master's degree in 1949, and the University of Illinois, a Ph.D. in electrical engineering in 1951.

From 1946 to 1948, Dr. Shahbender did seismic exploration for Anglo Egyptian Oilfields Ltd. He worked for the Honeywell Corp. from 1951 to 1955, performing research on the behavior of nonlinear closed loop systems In 1955, he joined RCA in Camden, working on adaptive systems, nonlinear filters, electron beam and ultrasonic devices, and airborne fire control systems.

In 1959, he was transferred to RCA Laboratories and assigned to research on high speed digital memory systems. Since then, he has received two RCA Laboratories Achievement Awards, in 1960 and 1963 for his work in the field of computer memories. He has published a number of technical papers relating to his work, and holds several U.S. Patents.

SCIENTIST JOINS RCA

On Scientific Staff, Dr. J. Peter Bingham has joined the scientific staff of RCA Laboratories at the David Sarnoff Research Center. He is a member of the Systems Analysis and Display Research group of the Consumer Electronics Research Laboratory.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., he was graduated from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn with a B.S. degree in Physics in 1962. He received his M.S. degree in 1968 and his Ph.D. degree in Electrical Engineering in June of this year, both from the University of Maryland.

Dr. Bingham is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Sigma Pi Sigma, Eta Kappa Nu, and the American Association of Physics Teachers. He and his wife, Susan, live in Birchwood Court in Princeton Junction.

Christmas Services Planned by Many Princeton Area Churches

The traditional Christmas story will be read, accompanied with carols and pagentry in the Christian churches this week.

St. Andrew's and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Churches will observe Christmas Eve worship together at St. Andrew's. The 10:30 p.m. service will be led by the Rev. F. Hugh Lafiton of St. Andrew's and the Rev. Harold A. Thomas of Witherspoon. The offering is designated for the Princeton Hospital Fund.

This Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Lafiton will preach on the topic, "A Faith to Share" at the 10 a.m. service in St. Andrew's; the Rev. Mr. Thomas will preach at 11 in Witherspoon Street Church.

Music for the Christmas Festival services at Trinity Church includes carols, choral works and organ music from the 12th through the late 20th Centuries. There will be a Family Festival Eucharist at 8 p.m. on Christmas Eve, with the adult and girls' choirs singing works by Malcolm William son, composer in residence at Westminster Choir College, and the motet "O Magnum Mysterium" by Gabrielli.

The traditional Midnight Festival Eucharist at Trinity begins at 11. The Choir of Men and Boys will sing works by Britten, John Paynter, Vaughan, Williams and Alec Wilson as well as traditional carols. On Christmas day there will be a Festival Eucharist at 9:30 a.m., with the men's choir singing carols as well as a plainsong mass.

A festival service of Lessons and Carols will be held at Trinity at 11 a.m. on Sunday. The music includes the Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" sung by the choirboys and accompanied by Mary Helbig, Harpist. Traditional ELECTED: The Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church, has been named president of the Princeton Pastors' Association for the coming year. He succeeds the Rev. Robert L. Cope of the Unitarian Church. Also elected at the December meeting of the pastors are the Rev. Edward Smith of First Baptist Church, vice-president, and Rabbi Hershel Matt of Princeton Jewish Center, secretary.

THE CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLELIGHT SERVICES in First Presbyterian Church will be highlighted by the traditional pageant. The cast includes (from left) Barbara McConnell, Dick Sword, Bruce Piper, Bruce Wells and Donny Meisel. Services are scheduled for 5 and 10 p.m. The reading of traditional scriptures and Christmas music will accompany the pageant.

News Of The CHURCHES

congregational carols will be sung at the 9 a.m. Eucharist Service.

The Lutheran Church of the Messiah will hold an 11 p.m. service on Christmas Eve. There will be a 10 a.m. service on Christmas Day and one service only, at 9 a.m., this Sunday.

Princeton Methodist Church is having a Christmas Eve Service of Carols by Candlelight at 7:30 p.m. On Sunday, some of the college students will share the morning service at 11.

All Saints' Chapel has planned a children's service for 3 p.m. on Christmas Eve and an 11 p.m. Midnight Mass. There will be a service of Holy Communion and sermon at 11 on Christmas Day. On Sunday, Holy Communion will be observed at 7:30 a.m.; a folk mass is planned for 10 a.m.

First Presbyterian Church will again hold candlelight services at 5 and 10 p.m. on Christmas Eve, with the reading of the scriptures, Christmas music and nativity pageant. On Sunday, there will be worship service, at 11:15 a.m. led by the Rev. Joseph O. Rand, Jr.

First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck has planned a Christmas Eve Candlelight Service for 7:30 p.m. On Sunday, church services will be held at 9:30 and 11, with child care provided. Church school meets at 9:30.

The Rev. H. Dana Fearon III will conduct the Christmas Eve candleight service at 8 p.m. in Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

The Unitarian Church of Princeton has scheduled Christmas Eve services for 5 and 7 p.m. The Rev. Robert L. Cope will preach at the 9 and 11 service this Sunday. His sermon title is "On the Third Day of Christmas."

TITUS FUND NEAR GOAL

$4,056 Raised. The Titus Rescue Fund, formed nearly a year ago when fire destroyed the home of the Rev. Susie T. Titus of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, has raised $4,056 toward the goal of $5000 set by the fund's executive board.

The house is now under construction at Shalk's Crossing Road, Plainsboro, and the Rev. Mrs. Titus is hoping to move in by Christmas.

There is still need for funds, for a new or used refrigerator and stove, and for help with regrading the lot.

The executive board will welcome offers of assistance or funds. The Rev. Marion Stokes (924 9017 or 924 1507) is chairman.

Obituaries

Frank A. Cosgrove, 77, formerly treasurer and member of the board of directors of Johnson and Johnson, died December 16 in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. He lived at 148 Hodge Road.

A native of New Brunswick, Mr. Cosgrove began working for Johnson and Johnson as an errand boy in 1907. By 1920 he was secretary to Robert W. Johnson, son of the firm's founder. He became secretary of the corporation in 1930 and was elected treasurer in 1932. He was named to the board and to its executive committee in 1949. He retired in 1954, after 47 years with the firm.

Mr. Cosgrove headed a national commission appointed by President Roosevelt in 1934 to make recommendations on minimum wages and maximum hours in industry and child labor laws. He was chairman of the Middlesex County Draft Board during World War II.

An honorary member of the Elks Lodge of New Brunswick, Mr. Cosgrove was a member of Springdale Golf Club, the Old Guard, the Nassau Club and the Bay Head Yacht Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Madalyn T. Cosgrove; a son, Frank A. Cosgrove Jr. of Princeton; a daughter Mrs. Kathryn Netto of New York City; one brother, Clifford Cosgrove of Highland Park, and two sisters, Mrs. William Harper of Highland Park and Mrs. Peter Keegan of Milltown. The service was held in St. Paul's Catholic Church. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Clarence May, 85, of 11 Green Street, died December 19 in Princeton Hospital.

Born in Kingston, he had lived in the Princeton area all his life. Mr. May belonged to Local 50, AF of L, and had been a member of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church for nearly half a century.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lorene C. Bradley and Mrs. Sharon Wright, both of Princeton and three grandsons.

The funeral will be held this Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Hughes Funeral Home, 324 Bellevue Avenue, Trenton. The Rev. Harold Thomas, pastor of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Donald F. Peresett, 63, of 863 State Road, died December 18 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was the owner of Peresett Appliances and Service, Princeton.

Born in Syracuse, N.Y., Mr. Peresett was a Navy veteran of World War II. He moved to Princeton in 1936 and was a member of Princeton Lodge 38, F&AM, Crescent Temple, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Princeton Shrine Club, Princeton Post 76 American Legion and Princeton Lodge B.P.O.E. 2129. He was past president of the R.S.E.S. of Trenton and a member of the Princeton Lions Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ethel B. Peresett, and one sister, Mrs. Mildred Moore of Syracuse.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, Canon James R. Whitemore, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Aloretta F. Conard, 66, of 15 Beech Street, Hopewell Township, died December 19 in Mercer Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of David A. Conard.

Born in Chambersburg, Pa., Mrs. Conard lived in Hopewell Township during most of her life.

Also surviving are two sons, Charles L. of Pennington and John L. of Trenton; two daughters, Mrs. Marion Rossidivito of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Annabelle Tomlinson of Trenton; two brothers, Charles and Willis Florig of Chambersburg, Pa., and 13 grandchildren.

The service was held in the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington, the Rev. Maynard F. Hatch officiating. Interment was in Fountain Lawn Memorial Park.

189 Constitution Drive

Aptly appointed one and one third acres, this ten-room Colonial with its terrace pool and patio is a noteworthy new listing. The room-size, slate-floored entrance foyer affords access to an opulent step-down living room with decorous white marble faced fireplace and French doors opening to terrace. The gracious and commodious dining room accomodates both many guests and large furniture, its French doors also open to the terrace. The casual den, which is near the front entrance has a small fireplace which emits traditional warmth and conviviality; the "Queen-Size" kitchen has abundant storage and adjoining bright breakfast area.

The upper floor is served by main and auxiliary stairs and contains five bedrooms and three baths; master bedroom suite is separate and has a fireplace. Not to be overlooked is the panelled game room, also with a fireplace; the room-size cedar closet; and the Sylvan Pool which is in the rear court. $120,000
